Day 2

Exploring around Japan can be daunting, especially with all the different train lines that transports you from one area to another. So here's a full-day bus tour that brings you comfortably from Kyoto to Nara to Kobe – yup, three cities in a day – without hassle. The first stop will see you through Kyoto's Western, tourist-y district in Arashiyama, featuring scenic grounds replete with temples, shrines and not to mention tourist magnet the towering Bamboo Forest. You won't go hungry; there's a hearty buffet/chicken sukiyaki meal (if you opt for plan A/B) provided in this tour.

Rest of the trip

Exciting itinerary inclusive of a visit to Ninnenzaka & Sannenzaka (Shopping Streets)!

Explore through the painstakingly preserved streets for a taste of Old Japan.

Cultural Day Tour in Kyoto & Nara

Return to Hotel

Rise early and embark on a full-day historical tour covering only the top sights. Home to the towering Sagano Bamboo Forest, Arashiyama is a tourist-y mountainous district with highly picturesque spots. Dotted with holy temples and grand palaces, Arashiyama has painstakingly preserved the city's historical charm. Next stop is the three-storey Kinkaku-ji temple that's famed for its golden pavilion and scenic strolling garden. Clad in about 48 kg of gold (for first two floors), this site exudes pure grandeur. The tour closes with a lovely visit to the temple complex Todai-ji, which houses the Great Buddha statue (reportedly labelled as world's largest, and its main hall rebuilt twice after fire incidents).

Rest of the trip

Exciting itinerary inclusive of a trip to Tokyo Disneyland or DisneySea!

The extensive 115-acre theme park needs no introduction. The second Disneyland (after United States) has reportedly hosted a total of 17.3m visitors in 2013 alone.
